Event Background

This NRCP Visayas Regional Cluster Annual Scientific Conference and 19th General Membership Assembly is an annual gathering of the NRCP members in the Visayas region. This annual convention provides the venue for scientific discussions and collegial interaction among members and for sharing of updates on NRCP and new policies on membership.

This year's theme Digital transformation in Research: Powers and Perils will provide the participants with the trends and insights into the digital transformation and how these technologies shape the research processes in the fields of humanities, the social sciences and the natural sciences. Indeed, technology has proved to be key in shaping the future in order to realize economic and social goals for the betterment of human society. Digital technologies offer opportunities to integrate products and services across functional, organizational, and geographic boundaries. However, in order to achieve successful digital transformation, changes must occur at various levels within the organization, including business, technology and the society.

Digital transformation also affected how researches and research practices are conducted as we have witnessed the creation of new fields such as data sciences and digital humanities.

This conference aspires to provide an avenue for discussion and insights into the opportunities, applications and potential implications and perils of the digital transformation particularly in research.

Objectives:

1. To provide a learning venue for discussion of the opportunities and potential implications of digital technology in research;
2. To provide the participants with the trends and insights into the digital transformation and how these technologies shape the research processes in the fields of humanities, the social sciences and the natural sciences;
